ITALIA

In the mid 1960's the Ca' del Bosco (house in the woods) estate was born when Anna Maria Clementi bought a farm and planted vines near Erbusco. As a young man her son, Maurizio Zanella, traveled to France and returned with the dream of creating a Champagne region for Italy on a smaller scale. In the gentle hills of Lombardy, the Franciacorta region emerged with its blend of chardonnay, pinot nero, and pinot bianco vinified as the Champenoise do, with a second fermentation in the bottle. The estate's most famous cuvée is the Anna Maria Clementi, named after Maurizio's mother.

Produttori del Barbaresco was founded in 1958 as a cooperative, consisting now of 56 growers and is known as one of the highest quality coops in the world of wine production. Encompassing 250 acres, they comprise nearly 1/6 of all Barbaresco vineyards. Supporting all 56 families and the local growers is part of the reason why Produttori del Barbaresco has achieved so much success.

Le Tenute Cisa Asinari dei Marchesi di Grésy, owned by the di Grésy family since 1797, began producing their own wines in 1973 following a decision by Alberto di Grésy. The four estates are: Martinenga in the heart of Barbaresco, Monte Aribaldo in Treiso, Cuneo province, La Serra and Monte Colombo in Cassine, Alessandria province. Grapes from all the estate vineyards are brought to the central winery at Martinenga to be made into high quality wines with the greatest respect for tradition and nature, where the aim is to faithfully transfer as much as possible of the identity of the terroir and the varietal into the bottle.

Giorgio Rivetti, owner and winemaker of has led a surge of modern winemaking in Piemonte. Since La Spinetta's first Barbaresco production in 1995, they have been competing with even the most ripe and forward-style New World wines. The Starder vineyard is located within the Neive district, where the best Barbarescos grapes grow. Highly rated ripe fruit, maniacal attention to winemaking, and new French oak are some of the reasons the Starder vineyard deserves careful attention.

The Bruno Rocca winery is located in the cru of Rabajà. It is one of the most historic, famous, and sought-out crus of Barbaresco. Purchased it in 1958, with its farmhouse of the same name, it is where the seat of the winery sits today. The vineyard gives top-quality labels that will age for years to come, with aromas, typicity, and powerful but balanced tannins.

BAROLO

Paolo Scavino is a historical winery founded in 1921 in Castiglione Falletto by Lorenzo Scavino and his son Paolo. The Scavino family tends to 19 historical Barolo crus located in Castiglione Falletto, Barolo, La Morra, Serralunga d'Alba, Verduno and Roddi. In 1978 the estate's Bric del Fiasc was one of the first single vineyards wines created in Barolo.

Brothers Aldo and Giovanni took over responsibilities of the legendary Giacomo Conterno estate in 1961, but split ways over slightly different philosophies on the production of Barolo. Poderi Aldo Conterno was established in 1969. He was considered to be a modernist with traditional techniques. All single crus spend up to 30 months in large Slavonian barrels and a year in bottle.

Roberto Voerzio manages 21 acres of vineyards in La Morra, an area renowned for producing the most approachable, supple Barolos. Roberto's cultivation methods are simple: fertilization is carried out by hand to address the individual health of each plant, establishing a perfect equilibrium in the vineyard and allowing for uniform maturation of all vines. High-density planting, a trademark of Voerzio's vineyard management, translates into extremely low yields. His wines are considered authentic, near 'cult'-like masterpieces, sought after by collectors and wine lovers worldwide.

BAROLO

One of the most respected producers of traditional style Barolo, Bruno Giacosa comes from three generations of vinaiolo. He did not go to enological school but instead learned his craft by working with his father and grandfather. In the early 1980's he bought the Falletto vineyard in Serralunga. Giacosa firmly believes in the value of single-vineyard bottlings. His crus are only bottled in the better vintages, and if a wine does not attain a very high standard, he either declassifies it, selling the wine as a simple nebbiolo, or he does not bottle it at all.

When Giorgio Rivetti started making wine in 1977, he dreamed of one day producing a Barolo. The opportunity arose some 23 years later when La Spinetta purchased the Campé vineyard in Grinzane Cavour. The south-facing vineyard was re-vamped by Giorgio who restricted yields by 75%. The vines are now an average of 50 years old and La Spinetta's Campé is known for its ripe fruit that can be enjoyed young as well as its great aging potential.

Located in the historic centre of Serralunga d'Alba, the wine cellar at Massolino was once very small, built into the marl below the house that was the birthplace of much of the family. In those times, the complicated social situation, combined with economic hardship, imposed a complex reality on people, with a focus on self-sustenance; because of this, crops were diversified, grains and nuts were produced and Piedmontese cattle were raised. Midway through the 1930s, they relocated to the other side of the only road that crosses the village of Serralunga, situated on the top of one of the most beautiful hills of the Langhe.

BAROLO

The ultimate and purest expression of Barolo can be found in bottles bearing the Giacomo Conterno name. In fact, they represent the ideal of traditional Barolo: rich, powerful, massively structured, and capable of long aging in bottle. These majestic wines descend from a colossal legacy, spanning three generations of Conternos: Giacomo, Giovanni, and Roberto—in each case, the torch passing from father to son. Both Giovanni, who forged a reputation as the greatest of all Barolo producers, and now his gifted son, Roberto, have continued the important work of patriarch Giacomo.

ALTO PIEMONTE

Ninety miles northeast of Alba, hidden at the base of the Italian Alps, is the little-known winegrowing area of Alto Piemonte. The region, which acquired its name more for its high altitude than for its relative location to the Langhe (the name literally translates to 'high Piedmont'), is an Alpine paradise set amid forest-clad hills on the banks of the Sesia River.

VENETO

East of Lake Garda near the town of the same name, lies the wine region of Valpolicella. No less than four red wine styles have emerged from the same blend of the indigenous grapes rarely found anywhere else in Italy, Corvina, Rodinella, and Molinara. Valpolicella is a fresh, lighter style of wine meant to be drunk young. Amarone di Valpolicella is made from grapes using a method called appassimento. The grapes are dried for 3 months on straw mats concentrating their flavors and sugar content resulting in a bigger, bolder wine. Ripasso di Valpolicella is the middle ground between Amarone and the young Valpolicella. The pressed grapes from Amarone are “refermented” in the young Valpolicella adding body, extract, and a bit more alcohol. Recioto di Valpolicella is a sweet wine made with the same appassimento method, but not fermented dry like Amarone.

BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO

In 1962, after Italy did away with their sharecropping system, peasant farmer Primo Pacenti founded Canalicchio di Sopra in Northern Montalcino. The climate is cooler and less affected by the Mediterranean breeze. Still family-owned and operated, their formula remains the same: ageing the wine for 36 months in barrel and one year in bottle, allowing these Brunellos to showcase classic aromatics and dense structure.

Poggio Antico is located about fifty kilometers south of Siena. The earliest written records of the estate date from the beginning of the 19th century, when the present boundaries were marked. At that time, the estate consisted of woodland, grassland, and three stone houses. The development of Poggio Antico started in the late 1970s, when electricity was brought in, vineyards were planted, and construction of the wine cellar began.

Donatella's family has owned the vineyards in Montalcino and Chianti since the 16th century. Her mother Francesca made Fattoria dei Barbi worldly famous. While Donatella's brother Stefano continues that tradition, she decided to start her own estate. Casato Prime Donne is an operation where all vintners and the winemaker are women and the wines are famous for their elegant, very traditional style.

Nestled between the Orcia and Ombrone rivers on the southern slopes of Montalcino, the Castello Banfi estate is unique for its wine culture and tradition. Banfi was founded in 1978 by the Italian-American brothers, John and Harry Mariani who initiated a modern era in the Brunello production. Banfi Brunello is produced with clones of Sangiovese, selected after 20 years of research on this unique grape and is aged in French oak barrels as well as in Slavonian barrels.

Col d'Orcia or (the hill overlooking Orcia River) is the biggest organic wine producing farm in Tuscany, and is one of the oldest wineries in the region. The vineyards located on the slopes of Montalcino have great southern exposure. The Poggio al Vento vineyard is situated on the windy hill with sandy, limestone soil that produces wines with powerful, yet elegant character. The Riserva is produced only in the most exceptional vintages.

Giacomo Neri has been at the helm of the estate his father founded since 1991. Casanova di Neri's style is distinctly modern with power, concentration, and refined complexity. In recent years, his Brunellos have received high accolades from the wine press with scores between 95 and 100 points. The pride of the estate is the Cerretalto vineyard which forms a natural amphitheater overlooking the Asso river. The soils of Cerretalto have a high percentage of galestro, iron, and magnesium, which give a unique character to the sangiovese grown there. Thus, Cerretalto is the source of the estate's single cru bottling. Tenuta Nuova is known for its potency and finesse, is a blend of two estate vineyards: Le Cetine and Pietradonice.

The Constanti family has been a highly influential in Tuscany since the creation of the Republic of Siena in 1555. The family has been making wine for just over 200 years and currently is one of the most venerable wine producers in Montalcino. Andrea Constanti, took over the family business in 1983 and he is raising the bar even higher by making classical brunello using modern techniques in the vineyard and in the winery.

The Uccelliera (Bird's Nest) estate, is located in the warm southern Castelnuovo dell'Abate, and was part of the neighboring Ciacci Piccolomini estate until 1986. To produce Brunello and Rosso by blending vineyards with different exposures and soils is a specific choice so that the character of the terroir can be expressed following a "minimum handling" philosophy.

The Frescobaldi are a Florentine family that has been devoted to the production of wine for 30 generations. Their inaugural production is documented in the year 1300 at the historic estate of Tenuta di Castiglioni in Val di Pesa, southwest of Florence. By the beginning of the 1400s, great Renaissance artists such as Donatello had become faithful clients. A century later, the Frescobaldi wines were served at the tables of the Papal Court and the English Court of Henry VIII.

From the hills of Montosoli, the Abbruzzese family has evolved stylistically over the years giving us the most fragrant and structured Valdicava wines yet. Their highly regarded vineyard Madonna del Piano arguably grows the best fruit in all of Montalcino. Consider intense aromas of white truffle, chestnut, blueberry pie, fresh violet, even foie gras; all confirmed on the palate adding notes of black fruits, licorice, mineral, and inky cassis.

CHIANTI

Fontodi has belonged to the Manetti family since 1968. The family has been associated for centuries with another activity typical of the Chianti region, the production of its famous “terrecotte” tiles. And it is in the name of this strong link with the territory and a great passion for quality that the estate has moved successfully towards an ever more attentive cultivation of the vineyards and a more profound knowledge of the potential of Sangiovese in the zone of Panzano.

SUPER TUSCAN

The innovative decision to plant Cabernet Sauvignon at the Tenuta San Guido estate was partly due to the similarities its founder, Mario Incisa had noted between Tuscan terrain and that of Graves in Bordeaux. The name Sassicaia or “the place of many stones” refers to this stony, gravelly soil. The wine was initially unappreciated by other winemakers and consumers who were accustomed to lighter, Sangiovese-based wines. It remained a strictly private affair for over twenty years, only to be commercially released in 1968, when it received a great welcome. Since then it has remained one of the most sought-after wines in the world.

The Tignanello estate is the home of the renowned Tignanello and Solaia vineyards. It is located in the heart of the Chianti Classico. The Tignanello estate, which has been in the Antinori family for over two hundred years, is built on the foundations of an estate that dates back to 1346. Piero Antinori began to tinker with the traditional Chianti formula and found himself abandoning it altogether in 1971 with the release of his Tignanello wine. It was, in fact, the first of the modern-day Super Tuscans.

Le Macchiole was one of the first wineries established in the viticultural zone of Bolgheri located approximately 100 kilometers southwest of Florence along the Etruscan Coast in Tuscany. Leading down the middle of this zone is the strada San Guido, which is flanked left and right with majestic cypress trees celebrated by Giosuè Carducci in his poem Davanti San Guido, and then finishes into a tiny medieval village, situated on the base of the foothills.

SUPER TUSCAN

Tenuta dell'Ornellaia, named after the grove of flowering ash trees surrounding the winery in Bolgheri, was founded in 1981 by Piero Antinori's brother, Lodovico. The key element of the success of this renowned estate is its unique soil, composed of clay, gravel, and loam, ideally suited for the cultivation of Bordeaux varieties. While its most famous wine, Ornellaia, is a carefully crafted blend of Cabernet and Merlot, Masseto is a rare, single vineyard wine made entirely from Merlot grapes. The Masseto hill, which now is the source of rich, silky elegant Merlot has become a modern classic.

UMBRIA

Sagrantino di Montefalco is a dark and powerful grape, responsible for some of the finest red wines in Central Italy, and Paolo Bea's Sagrantinos are the most remarkable of them all. Bea is a firm believer in non-interventionist and natural winemaking which includes organic practices in the vineyard and hands-off approach in the cellar.

RHÔNE VALLEY - SOUTHERN CHATEAUNEUF-DU-PAPE

Vieux Télégraphe has been growing vines on La Crau plateau in Châteauneuf-du-Pape for 100 years. The old communication tower that used to stand there gave the name to the winery. The plateau itself is considered by many the best cru in Châteauneuf-du-Pape and produces earthy, deeply structured wines.

Château La Nerthe is the oldest estate in the region. The vines here are 40 years old and certified organic since 1998. The wines are more modern in style with softer tannins.

The Perrin family has blended its unique vinification methods with eco-friendly practices to produce wines of the highest reputation. The estate started farming organically in 1950 and in 1974, went a step further converting to biodynamic farming. They use a high percentage of Mourvèdre in their blend.

CALIFORNIA - CENTRAL COAST

Our wines are an extension of myself: loud, uncompromising, full of love and heart but mostly honest - says Greg Linn. His Ambullneo Vineyards Pinot Noir scored a 95 point rating in 2002 as the first in the Central Coast. Linn's wines are the true definition of artisan and they show the influence of his favorites like Domaine de la Romanée Conti, Leroy, Claude Dugat. Old world meets new world in Greg Linn's wines. The fruit is tamed and the earth tones added to connect the bridge from what was, to what is, in a unique and precise way.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON | BORDEAUX BLENDS

Since 1972, Randy and Lori Dunn have been producing world-class cabernet sauvignon, well before the Howell Mountain AVA was recognized. Both their Howell Mountain and Napa Valley bottlings are always 100% cabernet. Lower in alcohol than their neighbors, their wines are the closest examples to fine Bordeaux showing flavors of chocolate, cassis, and black raspberry.

Founded in 1968, Diamond Creek was California's first winery to focus on producing estate vineyard cabernet sauvignon. Gravelly Meadow shows jammy blackberry, and hints of cedar. Red Rock Terrace produces more velvety tannins, with hints of cherry, mint and black currant. Volcanic Hill is the darkest of our examples, expressing cassis, violets, and a little smoke.

In 1982, after a six year search, Sir Peter Michael and Lady Michael purchased 630 acres of volcanic ridges on the western face of Mount St. Helena in Knights Valley. Drawing inspiration from the great wineries of Burgundy and Bordeaux, the family hired like-minded viticulturists and winemakers to help them create terroir-driven wines that would stand the test of time.

RHÔNE VARIETALS

Sine Qua Non is a California cult winery known for its Rhône style blends, a tendency to avoid repetition, and a very limited production of wine that is highly difficult to obtain. Manfred Krankl and his wife Elaine founded the winery in 1994. Sourcing fruit from a wide variety of growers from year to year, and increasingly from their own vineyards has caused the winery to never make exactly the same wine twice. A tradition at Sine Qua Non is that each wine has a distinct name, label and often bottle style. Each label is hand made by Manfred with linocut art work of his own creation.
